JOE F. ODLE SELECTS CAMPAIGN MANAGER

It is announced from Paris that former State Senator William D. Cooper, Paris druggist and chairman of the Henry County Democratic Committee, has been chosen by Representative-elect Joe F. Odle to manage his campaign for the House Speakership.

Bill Cooper will be remembered by Benton Countians as Clerk of the County Court prior to the regime of A. L. Hassell. It is Mr. Cooper's intention to open headquarters at the Maxwell Hotel at Nashville following the Christmas season and immediately inaugurate an active campaign in behalf of Mr. Odle's candidacy for Speaker.

The formal opening of the next General Assembly will take place January 1. Mr. Odle has the support of many Democrats and is well pleased with the situation.

TO THE HUNTERS OF BENTON COUNTY

The only source of revenue of the Fish and Game Department of the State of Tennessee comes from hunters and fishers license, and the State Warden, C. P. Williams, is doing all in his power to conduct the department on a high plane and I, as his Deputy Warden for Benton County, advise hunters to procure license to hunt at the County Clerk's office.

I kindly ask those holding license to report those they know are shooting game without license to me and I will do my best to convict them, though I would much prefer that all hunters take out license for it will be no pleasure to me to arrest anyone.

Violators of the law are advised to take heed.

Respectfully,
B. P. LASHLEE,
Deputy Game Warden

Mrs. Charles Hicks of the sixth district died suddenly on Friday night of last week.

Great Whirlwinds, Tornadoes and Hurricanes

are evidently due to some peculiar abnormal disturbance in the atmosphere. We don't know very much about such things, but we presume that is the reason; else they would occur frequently and we would come to look upon them as just an ordinary part in the every day scheme of things. They usually come without warning, expend themselves in a short time and leave a path of destruction and ruin. There is nothing sensational or out-of-the-ordinary in our message. We come to you with the plain truth in a plain way and a way that we believe you will appreciate and respond to.

The writer of this advertisement (if it may be called one) is a young man who has spent most of his life in a small town in West Tennessee. He never had the opportunity of bathing in a real bath tub until he was 18 years of age. He is thoroughly familiar with the inconvenience and drudgery that is always associated with an attempt to bathe where there are no facilities for it, and especially is this true in winter time.

Several months ago we got in touch with the manufacturers of the Allen Portable Bath System with the view of establishing a distributing office in this territory. We did this not for the mere sake of entering business, but because we believed then and we believe now that the system is an article of genuine merit and one that would be welcomed into every home that is not equipped with modern bathroom fixtures. The extreme satisfaction the system has met with in the homes of users has proven that we were correct in our belief.

Obviously we can not establish a distributing point in every locality. We can not come into personal contact with our customers in the way your local merchant does. The nearest we approach to this is to advertise and bring our message to you through your local paper. From a circulation standpoint this is perhaps the most expensive form of advertising that we could do. On the basis of the circulation we get per dollar it costs about five times as much to use space in the county newspaper as it does in the larger mediums of the cities which we are also using. We prefer the local papers, however, because it tends to establish closer relations with the communities we desire to serve, and the paper which serves your interests gets the benefit of the advertising.

The Allen Portable Bath System bears the unqualified endorsement of all its users. We received a letter a few days ago from a prominent farm journalist of the South in which he says, "Your bathing system should be in every home in Dixie that does not have up-to-date bathing facilities, and it would be there if they only KNEW ABOUT IT." This simple outfit will bring to your home bathing comfort unexcelled by any bathroom. You can "know about it" without the risk of losing one cent. The price of the complete system, including heating attachment and reservoir, is only $7.50 delivered to your home. You can use it in your home one week, and at the end of that time if you are not entirely pleased and satisfied with it return it to us and your money will be promptly refunded.

If you approve of the spirit behind such a "Satisfaction Guaranteed" business policy we will appreciate the opportunity of proving that the "Allen" will bring to your home bathing comfort that will be a delightful surprise to the entire family.
